Tilden keeps pretty well up with General Grant in keeping silent.

There will be no use to "saddle Blackstone" this campaign. It will do Tilden no good.

The semi-annual meeting of the Wisconsin Bee-Keepers' association, will take place at Waupun on the 4th and 5th of May.

The West Point investigation is not creditable to the reputation of the Military Academy. The farther it goes, the less respect one has for the institution.

There is a reviving hope in the Democratic breast that the party will not be troubled with Mr. Tilden after the 2d of November. That is the day appointed for his political funeral.

Fred W. Horn, of Ozaucue, three times Speaker of the Assembly, and for many years a Democratic wheel-horse, has been chosen a delegate to the Republican State Convention. Mr. Horn prefers Washburne to any other candidate, but would rather have Grant than Blaine.

Washington gossip tells us that the Republican Senators who are uniformly regular in attendance at prayers are Blair, of New Hampshire; Saunders, of Nebraska; Cameron, of Wisconsin; McMillan, of Minnesota; and Kirkwood, of Iowa. Matt is not cleared among the faithful.

There has been a striking change in the affairs of the men who started the so-called "Workingman's Party" in San Francisco. De Young is in his grave, Dan's Kearney is in prison, and Mayor Killoch will now find his way behind the bars. These are the results of demagogism, and unhealthy political strife, and a love for notoriety rather than a respect for a good name.

Delegate Downey, of Wyoming Territory, has suddenly reached fame. As an epic poet, nothing like him was ever before seen in Congress. For the first time in the history of the Congressional Record he has made that publication interesting for at least one number. The attention of the public is now turned from the baby elephant recently born in Philadelphia, to Downey, the Congressional poet.

There are a good many evidences which warrant the statement that a great

FROM MADISON.

Special to the Gazette.

MADISON, April 27.—Governor Smith returned from Washington last evening, whether he went some two weeks ago, for the purpose among other things, of presenting to the consideration of the Interior Department, the claims of Wisconsin, growing out of the swamp land grant of 1850. For many years there has been a feeling that the State had not received, and was not receiving all that it was entitled to under this grant, either in land or money. During the past year a large amount of work has been done in our State Land Department, to get at the bottom facts in the matter, and to gather the evidence to sustain them. The result of the Governor's mission is that a basis of adjustment has been agreed upon which will result in securing to the State at no distant day, a large amount of land and a very considerable sum of money.

The following commissions were issued from the Executive to-day: Robert Hill, Captain; Albert Blatz, First Lieutenant; George W. Peck, Second Lieutenant, of the Milwaukee Light Horse Squadron.
Fred B. Goodrich, Captain; Charles T. Isham, First Lieutenant; Menden Vedder, Second Lieutenant, of the Delavan Guards.

The Village is Destroyed by a Cyclone and Water-spout—The Killed and Wounded.

MEMPHIS, April 26.—A special to the Appeal from Macon, Miss., says: Last night, at 7:30 o'clock, a most furious cyclone struck the northern part of this place, resulting in a sad loss of life and wholesale destruction of property. The day had been unusually sultry.

At the hour stated two terrible currents of air, one from the northeast and the other from the southwest, bearing clouds charged with electricity, were hurled together right at the fatal locality. It was a war of storms. Besides incessant lightning, balls of fire were seen whirling across the clouds, varying in size from a constant to that of a man's head. Right in the center of that part of the town around the railroad station the storms met and the work of destruction commenced, and in less time than I can tell it the place was in ruins.

The loss of life was fearful. Through beating rain, against the fiercest winds, citizens rushed to the scene to aid the sufferers. Through the night squads of men combined went to work to remove the debris, and gather up the wounded, dying and dead that were scattered everywhere.

The scene beggars all human attempts at description. To-day the citizens have closed their places of business, and are devoting the day to caring for the dead and wounded. Eighteen were killed outright and forty more or less wounded, some, perhaps, fatally.

After the storm some of the ruins caught fire, but it was checked before spreading to any great extent.

About 10 o'clock a perfect water-spout visited the scene, to render it more horrible.

Men and women were found to-day decapitated, limbs torn from the body, and otherwise mutilated, a quarter of a mile from their homes. The stock was all killed in that vicinity.

Bit coeds from stores were found eight miles from town in tree tops.

BLAINE'S PLAN.

To Capture Ohio Delegates, As Told by a Grant Man.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—A Grant man who claims to know what Blaine's plan is describes it as follows: Blaine generally intends to divide the Ohio delegation to Chicago. After Sherman's speech at Mansfield, in which he declared that he should not be a candidate unless he had the united support of Ohio, Blaine took Sherman at his word, and while endeavoring to secure all the delegates that he could for himself, he determined that they should vote for Sherman at Chicago until such time as Blaine wants them to vote for himself.

The object of the scheme is to keep Sherman in the field as a candidate, and to prevent him from throwing his strength for Grant until Grant shall have been compelled to retire from the contest. Blaine's next move the same Grant man reports to be to divide the New York and Pennsylvania delegations, and to break the unit rule. This Grant man greatly feared that Blaine would have the ability to do this, and that the best some delegates in New York and Pennsylvania who would absolutely refuse to vote for Grant. Some of them had told him so.

DE YOUNG'S DEATH.

What the Killochs Say Regarding the Tragedy—The Mayor's Residence Guarded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 26.—The Post this evening published an interview with young Killoch. He still declines to say anything concerning the circumstances leading to his attack on De Young, but regarding the alleged conspiracy in which Ransome, the Mayor's colored servant, is made to figure, he remarked: "If you see Jim Ransome, you can tell him just to come out square with the truth. It can't hurt anyone."

Mayor Killoch was attending to his duties at the City Hall to-day. He voluntarily stated that he deeply deplored the turn affairs had taken and so did his family. He thought that within thirty days, when the excitement had subsided, however much the tragedy was to be regretted, the city at large would be more peaceful and agitated. With regard to the report of his having been down town on the night of the shooting, both he and his son deny the rumor as malicious and absurd. The Mayor and Mrs. Killoch were out driving all last Friday with friends, and returned home at 6 p. m. The Mayor felt weary and laid down on his own bed to rest. He was called for dinner at 7 o'clock, and not feeling well went to bed. He fell asleep shortly after going to bed, but was aroused at 10 o'clock and informed that his son had killed Charles De Young.

Regarding the rumor of a conspiracy being carried out at the house where his colored servant lodged, the Mayor said that he had visited his servant almost every day while he was sick, and so had his son, and that there was not the slightest foundation for the charge of conspiracy. The Mayor stated also that he had no further public speech to make. The man who tried to assassinate him is no more, although he met his death from a source that was of course to him most deplorable. He should continue to fulfill his duties as chief magistrate of the city to the best of his ability. The workmen have placed a guard of twenty-two men, taken from their militia, on duty at Mayor Killoch's house, to prevent the intrusion of meddlesome parties, who, they think, might be intent on some desperate act.

MET BY CHANCE.

MADISON, April 26.—A very fashionable wedding is to take place in the First Methodist Episcopal church early in June. The high contracting parties are the pastor's own daughter, Miss Ivah M. Benson, famous for her contributions to art, and Dr. Irving D. Wilkour, of Pennsylvania. The prominent position of the bride's father in the Methodist Episcopal church and the popularity of the groom will serve to draw to the church a notable gathering. There is additional interest since it is said that the pair met but once, two years ago, under very peculiar circumstances. The doctor, whose health was very poor, was visiting all the large cities of the north-west, and went to Madison to visit the university and the insane asylum. It was while visiting the former place that he met his young bride. He was visiting the depot of art under the direction of a professor, who, knowing the doctor's interest in art and artists, introduced him to Miss Benson. The doctor left Madison shortly, but did not forget the school girl at his heels. After a day of protracted correspondence, they promised each other a life long devotion, although they have never met but on this one occasion. The happy couple will visit New England, sojourn at Long Branch, and sail for Europe early in the fall, on the steamship Ohio, of the American line.

PRINCE ANNE, April 21.—The scandal and gossip in regard to the extraordinary marriage of Sidney A. Shores to his little stepdaughter, Louella Shores, last February, has been revived here this week by the trial of Shores, along with the minister who performed the ceremony. Sidney Shores whose home is near Dame's Quarter, is well known through Somerset county, and is a well-to-do farmer about 45 years of age, whose wife died last December. The child wife is the daughter of Shores' first wife, her father having been Captain Samuel Shores uncle of Sidney, and thus his little wife is his first cousin, as well as his stepchild. The marriage, it will be remembered came off on the 5th of last February, and caused much of talk all through the county. The child had been living in his house since the death of his wife, and his extreme fondness for her was noticed by all the neighbors. Several of them asked that he allow them to take charge of the girl, but their requests he indignantly refused. To quiet any suspicion, Shores put her at school at Deal's Island, but after a very

TOBACCO GROWERS.

The Wisconsin tobacco growers association meeting is to be held May 25th, at 10 o'clock, at Edgerton. At the last meeting (a special) quite a number of our best growers became members. A great effort is to be put forth by them to destroy the tobacco miller, thus doing away with the many disagreeable days, labor of worming, and also making better leaf. It is often asked what is the object of this organization? We would answer this by saying: mutual benefit; and raising the reputation of Wisconsin leaf, by aiding members thereof to sell to better advantage, and from the very beginning it is evident there will be many other benefits to the grower from this union.

SENATOR RICHARDSON'S REPLY.

To the Editor.

In your paper of the 21st inst. appears a communication signed by members of the Assembly from this county, giving a history of the Municipal Court bill, substantially the same as the one sent by myself to your paper some time since. The communication is, however, couched in language calculated to carry an impression that I had been guilty of some official discourtesy, in having had the bill referred to a committee of one, when it reached the Senate. I beg leave, therefore, to make a brief addition to their statement of facts, not strictly of a public character.

The conference in regard to the substitute bill prepared by the committee of lawyers, at which several prominent citizens of Rock county were present, was held Monday evening the 8th of March. As stated, the bill was disapproved, and I left the committee room, with the understanding that the matter was not again to be taken up during that session. On the Wednesday following, I was informed by one of the "prominent citizens" aforesaid, that the original bill was to be amended and passed. I did not, however, suppose that this would be done without a meeting of the delegation to whom the bill had been referred; yet on Thursday morning upon inquiry of one of the Assemblymen, I was informed that the amendments were perfected, and the bill would be reported that morning. I was somewhat surprised at not having received any previous notification of this, as the Senator is usually regarded as a part of the delegation, but honestly desiring to do what was for the best interest of the county, I requested permission to copy the amendments and was allowed to do so. I immediately submitted the amended bill to the District Attorney, and other prominent lawyers all of whom condemned it. When the bill reached the Senate on Friday it was stated, referred to a committee of one. This was in accordance with custom in regard to the local bills, which are usually referred to the members who control them. The same rule had been observed by our Assemblymen in having the bill, when introduced into the Assembly, referred to the Rock county delegation. After the bill was referred to the committee of one, I showed to the Assemblymen the District Attorney's letter, condemning it, and asked them what, under the circumstances, I had better do about it. Mr. Burdge thought the bill "should pass." Mr. Lawrence, that the District Attorney's was "only the opinion of one man" and Mr. Lord said I could do as I thought best. I availed myself of his permission and followed the advice of those I thought best able to judge of the matter and who assuredly have the true interest of the county as much at heart as our worthy Assemblymen. As these gentlemen seem to be somewhat sore over the bills being condemned as "crude and imperfect." I would state in conclusion, that those words were quoted by me from a letter, now in my possession, from a legal gentleman of high authority.

CHICAGO LETTER.

The Stock Market-The Prices Paid for Cows-How to Steer Clear of Sharps-General Gossip.

Correspondence of the Gazette.

CHICAGO, April 26.-This is the best market in the West for thoroughbred stock.

On last Thursday 41 animals of pure blood exchanged hands at the stock yards, at high prices; one, ten months old, being sold to an Iowa gentleman-Judge C. C. Nourse, of Des Moines-for $875. He was a splendid animal, and the owner was offered $1,200 for his bargain. A nine-year-old cow, color, red and white, was sold to Kentucky breeders for $600. There were 45 sold in all, the average price being $810. At the same time and place, three Clydesdale horses, averaging 2,200 pounds, sold for $966 each. Meers, Lee & Reynolds, of Cleveland, Ohio, with whom I conversed, informed me that they had over 12,000 head of cattle on the prairies of Texas. They were the chief buyers at this sale, and intend improving their stock with the purchases made. They emphatically declared that poor animals of any kind, or "scrubs" should never be found in their herds, if money, time and attention could avail. That nothing but the best would be raised under their management.

A gentleman, residing in Janesville, writes me to give him information, in regard to how he can best enjoy himself during a short visit to this city, which he intends making soon for the first time. There is much indeed to interest strangers, in a city like this. The first and most important requisite, on arrival, is to get acquainted with certain class of sharpers who frequent depots, at all hours of the day and night. Next, stop at some good hotel, or with a friend during your stay. Do not surrender your independence by becoming acquainted with utter strangers, at their earnest solicitations-whether male or female. If the weather is hot, you will soon tire of walking, therefore "go slow." Hire a rig, if you can afford it, if not, take the street cars or omnibuses-fare 5 cents to the end of the line. Never make enquiries on the street of any but policemen, they are quite numerous in the city, and very bold as business like. Keep your own counsel and do not interfere in the least with what does not concern you, but pay strict attention to your own business at all times. Visit our water works, climb to the top of the tower and view the "Queen City," hire a tug and take a sail to the crib, examine the immense pumping machinery, which supplies the city with water. Visit our numerous parks and boulevards, more especially Lincoln park, the latter of which has 1,500 varieties of flowers, set out in beautiful array, and imported from all parts of the world at great cost. View our scores of magnificent business palaces on the south side, not forgetting the present city hall, where you will find the greatest American eagle snugly ensconced in the Mayor's chair. Enter the beautiful portals of our Board of Trade building, and listen to the wonderful and strange noises proceeding from the howling derbies, better known in polite and aristocratic society as "Board of Trade Princes." If you are a religiously inclined, view our numerous churches, which although burdened with debt, look grand and imposing. If you attend any of our numerous theaters, look well to your ways, your watch and pocket book. Visit our iron foundries, rolling mills, cementeries and educational institutions. There are other things that might interest you, beside those above enumerated, but if you are a married man, take your gun and angel along, and keep out of the way of temptation. You may not be satisfied in regard to our strictly moral life, you may feel like shaking the very dust off your fect, as a memorial against us, we will not complain, our money making facilities, our beautiful city and go-a-head proclivities, compensate us for all due lack of diligence in an honest, upright and christian life. After you have visited us once, you will call again; it does not require long to become acquainted with, or to be initiated into our secret money making ways. By a surrender of certain principles you may become one of us, and we will then live and die together in a common cause-securing wealth at any cost.

Something over seven years ago when Chicago was in its second infancy, certain parties of enterprising proclivities, engineering and small, cheap, cast-iron, cheap houses in the business districts might pay, and as business men and women were not very particular in regard to their cuisine at certain hours of the day, a variety of cheap eatables could always be kept on hand in order to satisfy the wants of the poorer man and women. Accordingly to think was to act, and small eating houses were started, until at the present time, they are quite numerous all over the city proper, and it is not as prepossessing to appearance as the Tremont or Palmer, the variety of pies, &c., exhibited in the windows look very tempting to hungry humanity. "Home made pies" seem to be the greatest attraction, but our ardent to partake might vanish, if we knew how these pies were made, or if what they are composed of, especially with respect to mince pies, and to fact in regard to everything placed before the guest in one of these side walk eatables.

"Early to bed, and early to rise," Come from munching cheap eating-house pies, Confidence men and women are very numerous at present, on our streets. Hardly a day passes but strangers are victimized in our midst, and in broad daylight. The modus operandi now is as follows: A knout of them gather on the street corner. They see a stranger approaching; immediately they begin to talk politics. The stranger is about passing, when one of them touches him on the shoulder, and asks his opinion in regard to Grant, Blair, Washburne and others; he stops, gets interested, excited; accompanies them to the nearest saloon; gets tipsy-helpless. After this their work is easily accomplished. He is relieved of money, watch and everything in his possession, and they suddenly disappear and change their dress, and general appearance; then they are ready for other victims.

Andrew Jackson and His Old Horse.

From the Rev. H. M. Cryer's Reminiscences.

Though Duke grew feeble and almost helpless in his latter days, he was not forgotten or suffered to be neglected. I have, in a walk with the General, more than once gone to the lot which contained this living wreck of martial valor, and while the old creature would reel and stagger, looking wistfully at his master, the General would say: "Ah, poor fellow, we have seen hard times together; we must shortly separate; your days of suffering are well nigh ended. On one occasion, to try the General on a tender spot, the writer of this article suggested the idea of putting an end to the sufferings of Duke by having him shot or knocked in the head. "No," said his generous master, "never, never, let him live, and while there is anything to grow upon this farm Duke shall have a part."

HYPO-PHOSPHITES

NERVOUSNESS,
It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefit I have received from using Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and it has proved an excellent curative for Nervousness and General Debility. It is also a first class Tonic, enabling a person to take on flesh rapidly and is free from the debilitating effects characteristic of other Tonics. I have tried it.

Nervous Tonic, it exerts a direct influence on the

the body. It affords me pleasure to recommend

THE GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, APRIL 27, 1880.

MILTON.
—Prof Edward Searing, of the college faculty, will no doubt sever his connection with Milton college at the close of the present college year to accept the Presidency of the Mankato, Minnesota, Normal school, at a salary of $3,000. Prof Searing visited Mankato a short time since and met the regents of the school who decided to offer him the presidency and the offer will be officially tendered him at the May meeting of the Board. That he will accept the position we have no doubt.
We will refrain from further comments at present and present the following clipping from the editorial page of the St. Paul Pioneer Press:
A Wisconsin correspondent of the Pioneer Press is the first to give publicity to a rumor that has had a rather wide private circulation: that Prof Edward Searing, of Wisconsin, is to be invited to take charge of the Mankato Normal School as principal. It is not necessary to wait for the official announcement to recognize Prof Searing's fitness for the position in connection with which his name is used.
If the offer is made and accepted, the Minnesota educational system will gain an instructor of capacity, energy and experience. Prof Searing is a man of between forty-five and fifty years of age. He graduated at Michigan University about 1860, and almost immediately became connected with the college at Milton, Wisconsin, as teacher of Greek and Latin. He has remained at Milton ever since, except four years when he was superintendent of public instruction in Wisconsin. He was exceedingly efficient in that position, though he incurred some hostility in connection with a text book law. At his second election, he was elected to the position of superintendent of the Democratic State ticket. Prof Searing is the editor of several widely used classical texts, among them a Virgil and Homer.
—The Band came out Wednesday night with twenty pieces and made the weiking around the park.
—D. Williams was in Milwaukee on Wednesday and was "on change" when what was being from 102½ to 1.00.
—Elisha Maxon, druggist of Farina, Illinois, was in town last week, renewing his acquaintance with his old comrades of the 13th Wisconsin. Mr. Maxon's wife is postmaster at Farina.
—Goodrich's card of last week conveys the impression that the Cheese Factory Association meeting notice in this column on the 1st inst was reported incorrectly.
His card says: "A meeting of the stockholders of the Milton Cheese Factory was held at Hamilton's hall, March 25th, at which a large majority of the stock was represented, and was entirely united and harmonious in its action." Now for the facts in the case and the meat in the above statement. Goodrich owns and controls a majority of the factory stock. He was the only stockholder present at the above mentioned March meeting as our report stated, consequently the harmoniousness of the meeting is an unquestioned, self evident fact and the resolves on that occasion could not have been otherwise than harmonious, for he can agree with himself if with no one else.
—The Band have just purchased a fine light pistol, sole agent instrument of the East & Son's Music Co., and O. M. Poston play it in an artistic manner. The horn was manufactured by Le Comte & Co., of Paris, and is a beauty.
—The Band boys have recently purchased a large number of new pieces of music, among them being "Blue Danube" and "Echo of the North," Walizes, "Moonlight Medley," "Sensation," "Con-quero," "Great Western," and "John of Edward" Quicksteps. They now have a large number of popular selections, and can execute them artistically. Organizations wishing the services of a first class band for outdoor meetings of any kind, will find it to their advantage to write the business manager of the Milton Cornet Band, Milton, Wis., for terms, &c.

—W. M. Home, senior partner of Home Bro's, Milwaukee, took the train for the city, Wednesday afternoon. He is looking well and hearty.
—J. H. Greenman shipped a car load of household goods and other belongings to his new home at Dover Center, Minnesota, Friday, and goes overland himself with his horse and buggy.
—D. P. Lauer has had bad luck with his apery recently. His large stock of bees wintered well, and early in the spring seemed to be alive and doing well, but during the past month the stocks began to die out until at the present time he has less than fifty swarms alive. He has lost over fifty swarms to date and he cannot understand what caused their death as they had good quarters and plenty of honey. Other bee keepers report more or less loss, while now and then a man reports his bees all alive. The weather during the past two weeks has been very unfavorable for bees.
—The water pipe laid from the tank to the stock yards last fall was connected and water run through it for the first time last Friday. Swine buyers can water their stock now with but little labor and that will suit them to a demonstration.
—Rock county can spare any suffering locality a large invoice of thunder and lightning.
—Mr. Hamilton raised Deacon Brown's large barn last Thursday. There was a large number at the "raising."
—Dug King, special agent of the Postoffice Department, was in town last Saturday.
—Tim. Rochford returned from his Western sight seeing trip on Friday night. He did not fall in love with the country around Running Water, and Mitchell.
—Rev James Bailey occupied the pulpit at the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday morning.
—The infant son of Prof A. Whitford, which has been ill for some time, died on Saturday morning and was buried Sunday, the funeral services being held at the house. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of all to their affliction.
—The Milton meat market has changed hands four times this month. McNitt sold to Davis and Perry, Davis and Perry sold to Freeborn, Freeborn sold to Thorpe and the latter to McNitt, who is now our butcher.
—The St. Paul pay car was in town last Saturday and disbursed to the employees.
—The wind on Saturday night played great havoc with fences, old sheds and other portable property, but the damage was not very serious. The sun made us a brief visit on Sunday, and looked quite natural, although a stranger to this section of the country.
